What is BHL Insight?

BHL Insight is a comprehensive Legal Practice Management System. For more than 20 years, leading Australian law firms have relied on BHL to deliver software solutions and professional support to ensure their operations are run efficiently, productively and profitably.

Australian law firms are increasingly turning to Integrated Practice Management Systems to streamline their processes and keep their clients satisfied because integrated systems offer lower cost of ownership, reduced training costs and high engagement with staff.

The BHL Insight software encompasses within one system every area the well-run law firm requires.

A significant contributor to BHL Insight users seeing real-world productivity gains is that BHL software is adaptable to your needs and procedures, not the other way around.

The BHL Insight software is modularised, so you can begin with one combination of modules based on the requirements of your firm and easily extend the use of the system at any later time. However Insight is very cost effective so most firms licence the entire system from the beginning.

While the BHL Insight toolbox is comprehensive, it uses one central repository for all data. This ensures all parts of the system are synchronized and in balance at all times.

As one of Australia's leading legal software developers, we know well that every significant law firm is different and that no one knows your practice better than you. That is why we don't just seek to offer better software, we offer a collaboration that starts with consultation and runs through to implementation, training, support and customizations.

BHL clients get the best of both worlds: an established and proven software package coupled with a choice of expert and local support teams.

How can BHL Insight improve your company's performance?

- BHL Insight provides all the core components to effectively run a law firm in one software solution. This saves training costs and time, as staff only need to learn one system. However, BHL Insight also integrates with major legal document management systems if that is your preference.
- BHL Insight manages your trust and general accounting in a simple and powerful way. Authorized staff can create requisitions, bills, receipts and financial reports with just a few keystrokes, saving time and reducing errors.
- BHL Insight offers a variety of ways to enter professional time, enabling you and your staff to choose the method most effective for you. Automatically generated detailed invoices increase efficiency, while speedy billing improves collections and cash flow.
- BHL Insight allows you to measure and track the value each matter, each partner and each employee brings to your firm. This information is used to guide your company and project future cash flows.
- BHL Insight prompts document assembly and allows you to automate processes and fee recording, resulting in increased productivity and billings per person.
- BHL Insight streamlines and simplifies important tasks like contacts recording, fast letter preparation and detailed attendance analyses, allowing more effective marketing and relationship management.
- Bring selected clients "in-house." With BHL Insight, you can allow key clients to access their matter information from their own desks via the Internet.

Why BHL Insight?

BHL Insight has been continuously developed since its inception more than 10 years ago, making it more functional and more adaptable than alternative systems.

BHL Insight is developed in Australia and supported throughout Australia. Direct access to the programmers and creators of BHL Insight enable us to deliver unparalleled support.

BHL Insight will allow you to independently create your own reports, and develop your own automated precedents without the need to refer back to BHL Insight.

BHL Insight is a truly open system and easily interfaces with Microsoft, Hummingbird, iManage, Worldox and other third party products, but it does not rely on such products for its core functionality.

BHL Insight is a solid foundation on which to build your Internet/Intranet systems to allow your staff to work remotely and your clients to access specific information on a restricted and secure basis.

BHL Insight is designed to make the lives of all the contributors in a law firm easier, more enjoyable and more productive.

BHL Insight is designed to handle branch accounting for firms with multiple branches in multiple states. Multiple entities are supported as is the flexibility to centralise some functions and decentralise others.

The BHL Insight group

BHL Insight is a leading Australian legal software developer. We have delivered innovative software solutions and continuous personal service to law firms since 1986.

We base our software solutions on three foundations:

- To use a single database as the central repository for all data
- To have systems easily modified for specific tailored needs
- To adapt and upgrade as technology changes without changing core systems.

We are committed to your success and do not withdraw support for older products until every client has moved to a new system at their own pace.

BHL Software Pty Ltd has offices and full-time staff in Brisbane, Sydney and Melbourne and clients throughout Australia and New Zealand.
